

This or That!

www.wordsofmymother.com

Rules: Question by question -- not all at once -- you each should write down your answer for yourself for the question. Or if you both have a printer, just print this out and circle your answers as you go along. You don't technically have to write down your answers, but writing down your answers just gives you proof. When you each have selected your answer, begin guessing what you think the answer is for the other person and why. Every right answer is a point. Keep score! Have fun!
